Paragraph 1.

A. One day Eurystheus had a thought and a smile crossed his face. He announced his final task. "Hercules! Cousin, bring me the guardian of the very gates of Hades, Cerberus, the three-headed monster." Without complaint or any show of fear at his final task, Hercules turned and left the palace.

B. A few days later Eurystheus, King of Tiryns, sighed as he looked at the man in front of him. There he stood, Hercules, proud and happy because he could complete the final task.

C. Hercules was cousin to Eurystheus but they didn't love each other. Eurystheus hated Hercules, and he hated the fact that Hercules was popular and yet may remove him from his throne.

D. Most of all, Eurystheus feared Hercules. Every task that he set for Hercules was done to send him to the underworld, yet every task was completed and Hercules remained alive and became even more popular.

Paragraph 2

A. After having the snacks and another story, our journey continued with Hercules cleaning the stable. The stable was very dirty, but Hercules had a great idea. He used a river to wash it in just one day! Hercules was really helpful!

B. Next, we heard about Hercules' fight with the Hydra. The Hydra was a snake with many heads, and when one head was cut off, two grew back! But Hercules was very smart. He made sure the snake couldn't grow more heads after he cut them off. Hercules was really clever and could complete the task!

C. Our adventure into the amazing tasks of Hercules began with the story of his battle against the Lion. This lion had a strong skin, but Hercules defeated it when he hugged it so tightly that it couldn't move. It showed how strong and brave Hercules was!

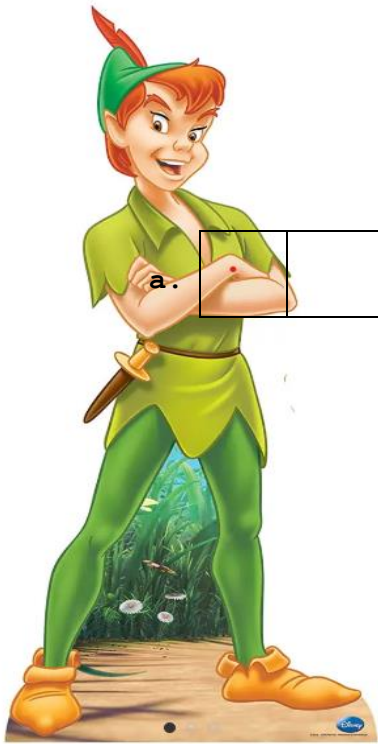

D. After listening to two stories we had something to eat and we learned about Hercules and the deer. This special deer was super fast and it was hard to catch it, but Hercules was clever. He played a game with the deer. When it got tired, he caught it. It showed how smart Hercules could be!

E. We ended our day by pretending to be Hercules and acting out his adventures. We roared like lions, slithered like snakes, and galloped like deer. It was so much fun being like Hercules!
