Fashion and Function

The ancient Chinese are responsible for the invention of many objects and items that we commonly use today. The umbrella is one of these items.

The first umbrellas appeared about 1,600 years ago. They were constructed with oiled paper, rice paper, glue, and bamboo. The outsides of the umbrellas were often decorated with colorful paintings of flowers, birds, and other intricate designs. However, these fragile paper umbrellas were not used to shield a person from rain. Women in the Qing dynasty used them to protect their skin from the sun. Umbrellas and parasols became very fashionable for both men and women and were viewed as a symbol of high rank in ancient Chinese society.
